In the race to the future, AAUW wants to help your students be prepared!

Explorathon helps students develop STEM [Science, Technology, Engineering & Math] literacy. During the day each student will participate in three hands-on workshops presented by dynamic women in a variety of STEM fields. Explorathon prepares and inspires girls by giving them role models and by showcasing state-of-the-art careers for women in science, technology, engineering and mathematics.

Registration forms are available on the website: birmingham-mi.aauw.net
